INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION FOR YOUNG ARTISTS

The Richard Wagner Prize of the Richard Wagner Foundation, Leipzig Richard Wagner Scholarships

The aims of the Richard Wagner Foundation of Leipzig are to promote and strengthen the knowledge and practical experience of the works of the Leipzig born Richard Wagner. To this end, according to its statutes and in co-operation with the Leipzig Richard Wagner Society, it provides scholarships for gifted young musicians – singers or other practitioners – to attend performances at the Bayreuth Festival.

APPLICATIONS FOR THE COMPETITION

Scholarships and the Richard Wagner Prize

The Richard Wagner Foundation of Leipzig is offering three scholarships to the Bayreuth Festival in the following categories relating to the works of Richard Wagner : Singing; instrumental music; vocal coach.

From the three scholarship winners, the jury will select the winner of the Richard Wagner prize.

This award for the promotion of young artists, is worth 5,000 Euros.

The selection of the scholarship holders and the winner of the prize will take place on 22 and 23 January, at the Klinger Villa in Leipzig.

The Richard Wagner prize will be formally awarded on 28 May 2015 at the Leipzig Opera House, as part of the Richard Wagner Festival Days.

Candidates under 35, currently studying in Europe at a higher education college, music college or similar are eligible to apply.

The competition will be publicised in the aforementioned institutions.

Candidates should submit their CV, a recommendation from their educational institution, the choice of pieces that they will present and a letter of motivation. An MP3 sample recording of their work would also be desirable. Successful applicants will be informed in good time.
